Free Suffrage in the District of Columbia

The most noticeable feature of the news lately received from the East, is the announcement that the national House of Representatives by an emphatic majority, has voted to grant free suffrage in the District of Columbia. In other words, the blacks of the District are to be admitted to all the rights and privileges of citizens.

Of the right of Congress to do this, there can be no question. The District is under the exclusive control of that body. Congress can prescribe what regulations it may see fit for its municipal government. Free suffrage may now have a trial in a community, a considerable proportion of whose population is of the colored race. The District is under the immediate eye of Congress, and if the disorders which are predicted by those who oppose equal rights, ensue, the evil can be very easily be remedied. Were it not for the fact that the enemies of popular rights appear to have a monopoly of the privilege of indulging in prophecy, we might, however, venture to predict with confidence, that the municipal affairs of Washington will hereafter be conducted in a manner far more creditable to the country than they were in the days when traders in human flesh and blood thronged that city, making it the center of their iniquitous traffic, and when the slave coffle was the most frequent sight which was witnessed in the capital of a great nation.

Of course we shall hear a great outcry against this measure from the illiberal press of the country. We shall be informed that this act is only preliminary to the general enfranchisement of the blacks. "We told you so," will be the general exclamation. But after all, it may be gently asked of these alarmed gentlemen, what harm has been done and what danger impends. Congress cannot regulate suffrage in any State, and in extending the elective franchise to the blacks in the District of Columbia, it is only doing what it has full right to do. Is it feared that negroes will everywhere be enfranchised? If the States in the exercise of a right which is undeniably theirs shall choose to give them the ballot gradually, and with suitable restrictions as to the intelligent and truly worthy, who can complain? They who are so tenacious about State rights will then have an opportunity to try the virtue of their own medicine.

AFFAIRS IN THE INTERIOR OF GEORGIA.—A Savannah letter, dated Dec. 8th, gives a fearful account of affairs in the interior of Georgia. The attention of the whites, it seems, is concentrated on a single idea—that of compelling the freedmen to work without remuneration. The employers having failed to fulfill their agreement with the colored people, the latter are very naturally averse to making new contracts. The purpose of the whites is to make as much as possible by the enforced labor of the blacks. The "dominant race" will do nothing themselves, except to compel the negroes to labor. The chivalry are as solicitous as ever about certain imaginary social and political rights, but wholly indifferent to the practical duties which should engage their attention and awaken industrious effort. After reading the following from the correspondence above alluded to, we cannot consider it improbable that A. H. Stephens, (who, though a rebel, undoubtedly desires peace,) has written letters alleging that the condition of Georgia is worse than it was during the war:

"The white people are in a sad condition. The country is bare of provisions, the roads almost everywhere are impassable, and, in the impending distress of the section and its complete isolation from all humanizing influences, the inhabitants have become desperate and vicious to a fearful extent, and are plunged into all the evils of social chaos. Springing naturally out of this disordered state of affairs is an organization of 'Regulators,' so called. Their numbers include many ex-confederate cavaliers of the country, and their mission is to visit summary justice upon any offenders against the public peace. It is needless to say that their attention is largely directed to maintaining quiet and submission among the blacks. The shooting or stringing up of some obstreperous 'nigger' by the 'Regulators' is so common an occurrence as to excite little remark. Nor is the work of proscription confined to the freedmen only. The 'Regulators' go to the bottom of the matter, and strive to make it uncomfortably warm for any new settler with demoralizing innovations of wages for 'niggers.' Even men who have served in the rebel ranks are not safe in recognizing the right of the negroes to labor for a pecuniary compensation, and many have been forced to leave because they have employed and paid them."

TRIAL OF GENERAL MERCER.—This rebel officer who is mentioned in the dispatches as now undergoing a trial before a military court at Savannah, Georgia, is charged with having shot seven Union soldiers on or about the 15th of December, 1861. The soldiers were prisoners of war who had been induced to enlist in the rebel service to avoid starvation and brutal treatment, and on the assurance that they should never be required to take up arms against Union soldiers, which assurance was violated on the first occasion. No denial of facts is made, but the defence rely on the parole granted to Mercer at the time of Johnston's surrender in which he is exempted from arrest or interference by the military authorities of the United States, so long as he does not break his promise and bear arms. Upon this exemption he demands his discharge, and claims immunity for all deeds committed while in the service of the Confederate States.

BAD NEWS FOR SIGHING LOVERS.—The Gretna Green of Oregon lovers is gone—or at least the happy order of things is changed which enabled Oregon's love pined swains and maidens to escape from "parental tyranny" and consummate their bliss under the more auspicious laws of the Territory beyond the great river. The Washington Territory Legislature, careless of the happiness of the distressed lovers who might wish to seek in Vancouver the felicity which the laws of Oregon deny them, has cruelly enacted a law to prevent minors from marrying in that Territory without the parental consent, thus putting a stop to those matrimonial enterprises which are so frequently contracted in this State and consummated in Vancouver and elsewhere beyond the river. So this business is stopped. What are Oregon's impatient lovers to do? Two Legislatures conspire with the fates against them.

THE REBEL DEBT IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—The South Carolina Legislature has appointed a special committee to investigate, ascertain and report at the next session of the General Assembly all the facts and figures in connection with the rebel war debt of that State. This action is in accordance with the recommendation of Governor Orr, the rebel who has been permitted to take the gubernatorial chair of South Carolina. It doesn't look much like compliance with the requirement that these debts must be repudiated. There are infallible indications that the South is preparing to make a great effort to have a future Congress assume the debt. There will be no positive safety against this humiliating and ruinous measure until a Constitutional Amendment shall be adopted prohibiting forever the payment of any debt that was contracted in aid of the late rebellion.

THEATER [illegible] —[illegible] an [illegible] filled the Theater on Monday night [illegible] being the [illegible] U S Infantry [illegible] Adkins, and [illegible] the entertainment [illegible] the opera of [illegible] The arrangement [illegible] different from [illegible] of the beautiful or [illegible] from the [illegible] Next was the [illegible] Verdi's opera of [illegible] we think [illegible] rendered by Atkins [illegible] the skill and [illegible] famous chorus and [illegible] the commencement of the second part was [illegible] overture [illegible] by that exquisite composition for the voice [illegible] Serenade. This is a favorite with all great [illegible] and it could hardly be expected that an instrument could [illegible] perfect justice, we must admit though Mr Adkins gave it as near to perfection as it could [illegible] After a few passages from Balfe's Bohemian Girl, [illegible] and the celebrated "Nightingale Polka," composed [illegible] Bouquet, the feathered songster being imitated by [illegible] on the piccolo and Adkins on the clarionet The [illegible] has been accustomed to hearing Koppitz the great [illegible] flutist, and Carnaud the flageolet play [illegible] and the surprise was great that any could approach [illegible] so closely as was [illegible] on this occasion. An encore [illegible] the satisfaction of the audience. The "Dream [illegible] the Ocean" waltz by Gung'l, a schottische, and a [illegible] of National Potpourri of various popular airs concluded the evening. When we consider that the pieces [illegible] are not exactly adapted to wind instruments [illegible] not often attempted the musical treat was greatly enhanced. This was noticeable in the andante composition [illegible] and the allegro passages of the overture [illegible] The latter class of music we have never [illegible] by any military band. It is doubtful if [illegible] music loving public of this city have ever enjoyed [illegible] instrumental performance so greatly as on Monday [illegible] We hope to enjoy many more such rare occasions, [illegible] that the professional "raids" of the band of [illegible] upon Portland will not be "few" nor "far [illegible]

[illegible] BENEFIT FOR MRS CRANDALL.—The proposition [illegible] by a Front street merchant, which appeared in [illegible] 's OREGONIAN, seems to have been received with [illegible] our citizens generally, and we presume but little [illegible] would be required to get up a handsome benefit for [illegible] and orphans of our unfortunate townsman Mr Crandall. Mr. James, of one of the prominent [illegible] firms of the city has signified that his firm, in [illegible] to their patronage would volunteer their services to [illegible] such instruments to the Theatre, or elsewhere, as [illegible] for the purpose of giving an amateur [illegible] and return the same. We presume the Theatre [illegible] be obtained, and the bills for all expenses incurred [illegible] occasioned, if not entirely donated. Who will [illegible] the management of an undertaking so laudable? Wesley Jackson agent of the firm of Hayward & [illegible] has given us some particulars concerning the [illegible] relations of Mr Crandall, which as well [illegible] in the Probate Court, showing that the [illegible] of Crandall & Towle, when they commenced business [illegible] city, did so without capital, but that they were [illegible] by Col. A. Hayward to make their commence[ment.] Owing to losses sustained by the bark Industry [illegible] and the Brother Jonathan in July, at which [illegible] Crandall was drowned, the firm was rendered [illegible] by some $8,000. After the sad occurrence, not [illegible] the condition of the firm the instructions [illegible] when he came here in August to take [illegible] was to render Mrs Crandall all [illegible] power to make her comfortable which [illegible] When she concluded to go to California [illegible] house everything she needed was [illegible] bills paid which she had contracted, [illegible] Upon the arrival of the bereaved [illegible] children, at her father's house she [illegible] that misfortune had overtaken him, and thus is [illegible] in destitute circumstances. It is a case that appeals [to a] generous public for help

PENSIONS, BOUNTY, PRIZE MONEY, PATENTS, Pay for Vouchers Scrip Back Pay, Lost Horse and Spoliation Claims obtained by the undersigned who will attend to all other business before the Departments at Washington City

Soldiers becoming disabled or diseased while in the service, are entitled to a Pension. Those who served in any war previous to the 3d of March, 1855, are entitled to Bounty Land. Those who served in the Navy during the late war, and were legally attached to a vessel or squadron on duty although not participating in the taking of prizes, are entitled to Prize Money. In many Indian Treaties provision is made for payment of Spoliation Claims out of Annuities. To collect the large number of such claims now owned in this country,—for the settlement of which no similar provision has been made by treaty,—demand should be made at once therefor at the proper Department and, if found just, recommendation will be made to Congress to pass an act retaining the amount thereof out of the Annuities

DEATH OF THE OLDEST MAN IN THE UNITED STATES.—James McCormick, who was without doubt the oldest man in the United States, died in Newburg, N. Y., on the 11th of November, at the good old age of one hundred and fourteen years three months and five days. He was as remarkable for health and strength as for longevity, and his life was an excellent temperance argument. He was born August 6th, 1751, in the county of Cavan, Ireland. His age was accurately fixed by the fact that in the Irish Rebellion of 1798, when ages became as important there as they were here during the recent draft, he was then forty-seven years old. In his youth he was not remarkable for anything except health and strength. He was a very early riser, often going to his work before day, and coming home at night very tired, he naturally sought his bed early. When a young man he lifted on one occasion, a stone weighing 700 pounds. He was also quite a pedestrian in his younger days. On one occasion he walked to Dublin from a place fifty-two miles from it, and the next day he walked back to the place in less than thirteen hours. "If there was a fair," said he once, "within eighty miles, I went to it: for you know walking was a way we had of sailing in those days." He was not married until he was forty-five years old. He was the father of fourteen children, five of whom died in Ireland, and the other nine came over to this country. He was among the last to come over, and arrived in this country in the latter part of 1845, and, with the exception of three years out West, he has always lived at New Windsor.

Some of his habits were very curious. It was the custom in his days, as well as in ours, when farmers worked in the field, to take a pail of water or some other beverage along with them to quench thirst, but he once stated that no matter how hard he worked he never experienced thirst as others did. He drank very little water or any fluid, and at his meals he was accustomed to season his food so highly with salt that no one but himself could eat it; and after his meal or during it, he seldom felt the want of drink of any kind. "At one time," said he, "I was a distiller without license, and although I handled the liquor like dish-water, I never indulged to please myself or to please my friends." His food during his life was coarse but healthy. He never used tea or coffee until a year before his death, and milk he particularly disliked, believing it to be unhealthy. Potatoes, corned beef and cabbage formed the principal part of his daily diet, and he seldom had anything more than simple fare. Pies and cake he very seldom eat, caring but little for them. In his younger days he disliked tobacco very much, and could not bear the fumes of it; but when he was sixty-five years old he smoked his first pipe, and became much attached to it, and in his old age he said it was a comfort that he could no more deny himself the indulgence than than he could his daily food. His hearing, sense of touch, feeling and smelling were remarkably acute, his voice was strong and clear, and he conversed with wonderful ease. No signs of second childhood, or a weakness of the mind could be detected. His memory was remarkable, and by a method of association of things, time and places, he would tell very nearly every little incident and the time and place of its occurrence during his life. He was never sick a day, although at times he suffered with the tooth-ache. He never applied any cure, nor did he ever have a tooth drawn, but suffered them to fall out of their own accord. At the time of his death he had only four teeth left. His eyesight, for two years previous to his death, commenced to decline, and when dissolution occurred, he was almost blind. His hair never turned gray. He was a rebel in the Irish rebellion of 1798, and was wounded in the left leg. His invariable answer to the question what he thought more than anything else caused him to live so long was temperance, exercise, plain food, regular meals, and regular hours in going to bed and getting up.

A VALUABLE WATER POWER For Sale.
THE SUBSCRIBER OFFERS FOR SALE A VALUABLE WATER POWER that can be worked on the Willamette Slough, three-quarters of a mile south of St. Helens, at the town of Milton, generally known as the Water Power originally worked by T. H. Smith, a short distance back from the river. This Valuable Water Power can be conveyed to the bank of the river with some 25 or 30 feet fall. The river bank is rock. The above site is at the head of the natural harbor of St. Helens, which has water sufficient for the largest class vessel in the trade to discharge or receive her cargo, and is entirely free of ice, drift or flood. The ground over which the trunk would have to be built is well adapted in the same, with inexhaustible stone quarries on the ground. As to the amount of water, the above Smith has run two sawmills through with less than half the head that can be had at the river. The subscriber is living on the premises, and will take pleasure in giving any gentleman all the information that may be desired, and can give a good title to the above premises. Address even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in Coin, would be getting

THE STANDARD
AMERICAN BILLIARD TABLES!
AND COMBINATION CUSHIONS.
MESSRS. PHELAN & COLLENDER
WOULD RESPECTFULLY CALL THE ATTENTION of persons wanting Billiard Tables to the great superiority of the above tables, manufactured exclusively at their establishment.

At the Billiard Congress of 1863, composed of all the first-class players of America, it was unanimously resolved that tables of our manufacture should be used at all matches for the Championship, as the best and only reliable tables.

These Billiard Tables have received the unqualified approval of the best players and most competent judges, who have universally pronounced them unequaled for general excellence and durability.

Seven distinct patents for improvements in Billiard Tables have been granted to us by the United States Patent Office, and we have lately obtained a Patent from the French Government, for our improvement in Billiard Cushions.

We employ, in the con[struction of] our tables, a variety of machines specially [illegible] by means of which we are enabled [illegible] and mechanical accuracy hitherto un[known in] manufacture.

Having a long experience [and a thorough] knowledge of all the appliances of Billiard[s, we have constan]tly on hand a large stock of the best and [most approved] materials, we are prepared to fur[nish every]thing required in the Billiard line with unprecedented dispatch.

The eminent French Billiard Player, M. Berger, has published the following opinion:

"New York, 28 August, 1861.

"On the eve of leaving the United States, I am happy to declare to all amateurs of Billiards that, after a tour of eleven months through the principal cities, I have been enabled to judge in a satisfactory manner of the superiority of the Billiard Tables manufactured by Phelan & Collender. The system of manufacturing is so superior, that I am happy to introduce their style of cushion into France. They have united to their manufacture of American Billiard Tables that of the French Tables, of remarkable excellence and beauty. For these reasons, I am happy to make this declaration.

"BERGER, CLAUDIUS,
Prof. of Billiards, Paris."

Parties ordering from us will find our prices as low as good work can possibly be made for. We sell first-class articles at a fair price, and will not make an inferior article at any price.

Orders by mail carefully and promptly executed. Illustrated Catalogues and Price Lists sent by mail. The "BILLIARD CUE," a journal published in the interest of Billiards, and containing details of all novelties, a copious record of Billiard news, and everything of interest to amateurs of Billiards, sent free on application.

M. E. HUGHES,
230 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal., is our only authorized Agent on the Pacific coast, to whom all orders should be addressed.

ALLEN'S
The Remedy for Curing
CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Croup,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.
